

One of the unique features of the SharePoint service is the ability for team members to modify the website directly through their web browser, without creating HTML documents or pages. Communication services include discussion topics that are presented in a format similar to regular newsgroups or presenter conferences.

A "partnership" area where members can provide marginal links to sites or resources on the web. Notice board feature for short announcements; And a list feature to create minor lists like "checklist". Provides a group calendar for each association, to which members can add or remove appointments. Like SharePoint, it provides a poll service to collect and summarize the opinions of community members. Currently, CommunityZero core services are provided for free, but custom services with the underlying.
